

JAPANESE BALK AT ARMISTICE

Feel That A Cessation Of Hostilities Would Benefit Russians Too Much.

OYAMA CONTROLS HIS LARGE ARMY

Reinforcements For Linevitch Merely Replaces The Men He Has Lost In The Campaign Just Closed.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

Washington, June 23.—Japan has informed the United States that she will not agree to an armistice with Russia until the peace plenipotentiaries have met and found each other's credentials entirely satisfactory. She would be willing to do so if a guarantee of some kind could be given her that Russia will negotiate a peace in good faith.

The president's efforts to stop the fighting in Manchuria have thus met a temporary check.

Those who have seen the restless way Mr. Roosevelt has searched for an opening to bring peace may feel assured that he will not cease his efforts to induce the belligerents to end—temporarily, at least—the operations of their armies.

Armistice Would Aid Russia.

So far as can be ascertained Russia has not asked for an armistice, and will not do so. She is in the same receptive mood she was when the president broached the idea of peace. It is Japan this time which is not welcoming the suggestion of an armistice. Marshal Oyama has a force greatly superior to that of Gen. Linevitch. A tremendous victory will insure better terms for the country. Moreover, if hostilities should be stopped the Russians might continue to strengthen Gen. Linevitch. At present he has only slight reinforcements to make up for the waste due to death in battle or from disease.

Japan's position has the sympathy of officers of the army and navy here. Its justice is also conceded by the administration. There is no way by which she can be brought to adopt a different attitude. Germany and France have made polite representations at Tokio in behalf of peace. Neither has gone, or dares to go, as far as the United States. Great Britain has asserted positively that she will not bring pressure to bear upon her ally.

Commissioners Are Not Named.

Count Cassini, the Russian ambassador, is expected to see the president and will discuss the personnel of the Russian peace commission. Minister Takahira will also see the president and his legation is also in ignorance of the names of the Japanese plenipotentiaries, Marquis Ito being the only man to be mentioned in the official dispatches.

The state department received a dispatch from Ambassador Meyer announcing that Count Lamsdorf is ill and in bed. Count Lamsdorf is the Russian minister of foreign affairs, and his illness is a great advocate of peace. His illness is greatly deplored, as the war party will have an opportunity to influence the emperor without any one of importance being at hand to rebut their views.

Nearly Take German Prince.

London, June 23.—The Times' correspondent with Gen. Nogai's army says Gen. Mischchenko recently was reinforced by a mixed division of cavalry from the Caucasus. The Japanese on June 17 sent two columns against Gen. Mischchenko's advanced base and drove him across the Liao river. During the movement a German prince was nearly captured. A shrapnel charge burst among the foreign detachments. Two horses were killed and Pertav Bey, the Turkish attaché, was wounded. Linevitch still retreating.

Tokio, June 23.—Heavy rains and mists are hindering the operations in Manchuria. The Russians are reported to be retreating in confusion in northern Korea. The Japanese are advancing. The war office has notified commanders that the continuance of the war was not affected by peace proposals, saying that peace is remote and the war will continue.

FORMER POLITICIAN DIES VERY SUDDENLY

Peter Kiolbassa, a Chicago Democrat, Passes Away This Morning.

[SPECIAL BY SCRIPPS-M'RAE.]

Chicago, June 23.—Peter Kiolbassa, a member of the board of local improvement and a prominent democratic politician, died this morning of blood-poisoning. He had retired from the office commission owing to the criticisms of the office for lax methods of inspection following several disastrous hotel fires.

OTTO SEIDEL TELLS THE WHOLE TRUTH

Former Register of Deeds of Milwaukee, Has Much to Relate to the Grand Jury.

[SPECIAL BY SCRIPPS-M'RAE.]

Milwaukee, June 23.—Otto Seidel, Jr., ex-register of deeds, began his testimony before the grand jury today. His official records covering certain county board history was given to the jury. Two additional confessions are reported.

PERTINENT QUESTION ASKED OF GENERALS

Social Democrats of Germany Want to Know Regarding War Basis.

[SPECIAL BY SCRIPPS-M'RAE.]

Berlin, June 23.—The Vorwaerts, the principal organ of the social democrats, asked the Prussian von Buelow, has asserted the headquarters staff whether or not Germany is prepared to go to war with France in case the present crisis over the Moroccan question develops unfavorably.

SECOND WARRANT IS ISSUED FOR J. W. HILL

Former Chief of Filtration Bureau of Philadelphia Again is in Custody.

[SPECIAL BY SCRIPPS-M'RAE.]

Philadelphia, June 23.—Another warrant was issued today for the arrest of John W. Hill, formerly chief of the filtration bureau, charged with forgery. Hill is now under bond on a similar charge.

John P. Brown, the Indiana forestry expert and editor of Arboriculture, is to meet in Chicago an official of the Australian government who has been sent to get information in the interests of forestry in that country.

FROM PARIS TO NEW YORK BY RAILROAD

French Engineer Proposes to Tunnel Under Behring Sea and Build Transcontinental Lines.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

Paris, June 23.—From New York to Paris by rail is a stupendous undertaking, but in these days of monstrous achievements, nothing seems impossible. Lique de Lobel arrived here today on his way to Russia to present to that government the signatures of American capitalists and engineers who approve his plan to build a railroad tunnel under Behring Strait, thus making possible the trip. The American capitalists will also act as his executive committee. Mr. de Lobel expects a company to be formed next November with a capital of $250,000,000 to develop the work, which he expects to have completed in five years.

BADGERS ARRIVE AT STRENUOUS TEDDY BUSY WITH WORK

Are All in Good Shape—All the Crews Are Now on the River for Practice.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

Poughkeepsie, N. Y., June 23.—The crews of Wisconsin and Georgetown arrived here Thursday, thus completing the representation of the six universities which will compete in the regatta next Wednesday. Wisconsin arrived at 1:30 p. m., and their boats were at once ferried to this side and housed. Andrew O'Dea, the coach, spent the afternoon rigging the boats and the men did not go out. The coach had nothing to say about his men beyond the statement that they would take their first practice tomorrow. He expressed no opinion of his crew, but some of the undergraduates accompanying the squad said they felt that the Wisconsin men have a better variety eight than last year. Four of Wisconsin brings a new shell. They have heretofore felt that one of the causes of their poor showing was unsuitable boating and this year particular pains have been taken to secure a boat constructed to carry a heavy crew. Georgetown sends only a variety of eight, with substitutes in charge of Coach Dempsey. They arrived at 6:30 p. m. yesterday, too late to row this evening. The crew is handicapped by two of the men being out of condition. Steward, the stroke, wrenched his legs yesterday and is limping badly, although he declares he will row today. Mudd, No. 5, is ailing. E. M. Packard, stroke of the Syracuse varsity, became ill last evening on returning to quarters, complaining of severe pains in his back. He was put to bed. Packard stroked the winning Syracuse crew last year and is deemed the best man in the eight. He finished the four-mile trial this morning in good shape apparently.

ATTEMPT WINNING OF A GENERATION

Eleventh Triennial Convention of the International Sunday School.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

Toronto, June 23.—The war cry of the International Sunday School Association which opened its eleventh triennial convention here today is "winning a Generation." Sixty-seven states, provinces and territories in North America, with Mexico, Cuba and Central America are represented by over 2,000 delegates. The convention is without doubt the most notable gathering of Sunday school forces ever held on the continent. The Association represents 153,000 Sunday schools and a constituency of 14,000,000. The International Association meets once in three years for conference, fellowship, information and inspiration. The general topic of the convention is "Winning a Generation." Sessions will be held daily on the plenipotentiaries of the belated, today with Rev. B. B. Tylor, of Denver, Col., presiding. Preparation service was conducted by Rev. Floyd Tomkins of Philadelphia. Tonight the delegates will be welcomed by Justice MacLaren of the Ontario Court of Appeals, to which responses will be made by Sr. Alan Hudson, of Brooklyn, Mass., and Dr. Carey Bonner, of London, England. An address will also be delivered by Bishop John H. Vincent, of the Methodist Episcopal church.

DIPLOMATS AND NOT ARMIES IMPORTANT

The Game Being Played at Washington Will End War Sooner Than Battles.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

Washington, June 23.—Those who have followed closely the President's movements in connection with peace negotiations state authoritatively that the arrangements for the meeting of the plenipotentiaries of Russia and Japan will not be completed until July 1st, at the very earliest and it is quite likely that it will take a longer time. Both nations are moving with the utmost deliberation for the game of diplomacy now being played is of even greater importance to each than are the movements of the armies on the battle field.

Prior to the formal assembling of the conference it is possible, if precedent be followed, that a peace protocol will be negotiated. The making of the protocol will take place before the declaration of a formal armistice. The negotiations for it will probably be conducted here.

GRAIN DEALERS ARE DISCUSSING RATES

Annual Convention of the National Association Opened at Niagara Falls Today.

Niagara Falls, June 23.—The annual convention of the National Grain Dealers' Association opened here today, with representatives of associations from all parts of the country in attendance. The meeting promises to be highly successful and there are many matters of importance to be discussed regarding the grain situation, railroad rates, etc.

ALEXIFF IS MADE A MEMBER OF COUNCIL

Viceroy of the East is Recalled to St. Petersburg to Aid in Government.

[SPECIAL BY SCRIPPS-M'RAE.]

St. Petersburg, June 23.—It is officially announced that Admiral Alexiff has been relieved of the duties as the Viceroy in the far east and named a member of the imperial council.

St. Petersburg, June 23.—It is stated authoritatively that a new international loan is being projected. The Minister of the Interior has prohibited the publication of the Russ for a month.

WESTERN NEBRASKA DRENCHED BY HEAVY RAIN LAST NIGHT

Burlington's Tracks Are Submerged for Many Miles As Result.

[SPECIAL BY SCRIPPS-M'RAE.]

Lincoln, Neb., June 23.—There were terrific rains last night in western Nebraska. The Burlington tracks are submerged for seven miles near Cambridge. All the trains are delayed.

Warsaw Police Take Extraordinary Precautions Against Any Acts of Over Violence.

Warsaw, June 23.—A man carrying a bomb was arrested this morning in front of the Malawski police station. He refused all information regarding himself.

The Mississippi river is now several miles wide at Burlington, Iowa, having risen seven inches yesterday. Much low land in Illinois is covered, and many farmers have had to move to higher ground.

WALLACE KEEPS HIS POSITION

Chief Engineer Of The Panama Canal Comes Home Merely For Consultation.

SPEAKS FOR A LEVEL SEA TRENCH

Expert Believes In Building What Will Be A Model Waterway, Even Though It Costs More At The Start.

New York, June 23.—John F. Wallace, chief engineer of the Panama canal and chairman of the engineering committee of five members, arrived Thursday night from Colon on the steamer Orizaba. He was accompanied by Mrs. Wallace and his two secretaries. His departure from the isthmus was so unexpected that the Washington authorities became alarmed, fearing he intended to resign.

Chairman Shouts of the isthmian canal committee hurried from Washington to this city, arriving in time to confer with Mr. Wallace before he should meet Secretary Taft. Mr. Shonts was relieved and notified Washington.

Engineer Wallace is not going to resign. He has simply come home for a long conference with Secretary Taft before the latter starts on his four month's trip to the Philippines.

Mr. Wallace left here two months ago. He had spent altogether a year on the isthmus. Some time ago he had a touch of yellow fever, on the isthmus, and considers himself immune. He would not mention the word "resignation."

For Sea-Level Waterway.

Mr. Wallace favors a sea-level trench, costing $240,000,000, exclusive of the $60,000,000 for the purchase of the rights. He considers such a canal will be a perfect one; that it will remove all restrictions on navigation; that there will be no delays in locks, and that it is better to have, instead of "shoddy and a counter sale," a canal "all work and a yard wide."

The chief engineer will utilize his leave of absence in compiling his annual report and as chairman of the engineering committee, preparing plans which will be submitted by the engineering committee to the board of advisory engineers, which consists of twelve members.

Use Big Steam Shovels.

All the work done thus far, he says, has been useful, and will not affect construction along the lines of any of the general plans that have been suggested. There are now ten large steam shovels in commission in the Culebra cut, the biggest a ninety-five-ton machine, scooping up five cubic yards at every dip. Before Jan. 1 there will be twenty-nine of these large shovels at work.

There are now 7,600 laborers in the trench. These are in the engineering and contract departments. Of this number 1,200 are Americans and the remainder aliens.

Russians Go to Work.

One hundred Russian immigrants, crossing the isthmus on their way to California three or four weeks ago, saw what they thought was a good opening, and they all jumped into the trench, literally speaking, and grabbed shovels. They are much pleased with their jobs.

Dr. John L. Undy, a scientific consulting engineer and friend of Secretary Taft, also accompanied Chief Engineer Wallace home. Yellow fever was pronounced not epidemic.

BOOKMAKERS TO BE ARRESTED TOMORROW

Delmar Race Track at St. Louis Will Not Be Allowed to Have Betting.

[SPECIAL BY SCRIPPS-M'RAE.]

St. Louis, June 23.—Attorney General Hadley today offered Sheriff Hergel of St. Louis county to arrest all bookmakers at the Delmar race track as a violation of the anti-gambling law.

TWO STEAMERS SUNK IN ST. CLAIR RIVER

Two of the Crew of the Vessel Were Drowned—Both Boats Sank.

[SPECIAL BY SCRIPPS-M'RAE.]

Detroit, June 23.—The steamers City of Rome and Linden collided in the St. Clair river, opposite Tashmoo Park, this morning. Both were sunk. Two members of the crew of the Linden, the cook and his wife, were drowned.

NO INDICTMENTS ARE FOUND BY THE BEEF GRAND JURY

They Adjourn Until Monday and Do Not Return Any True Bills Yet.

[SPECIAL BY SCRIPPS-M'RAE.]

Chicago, June 23.—The federal grand jury investigation of the beef trust adjourned this morning until Monday without returning any indictments. The jury is expected to complete its work in the next week, when it is believed a number of true bills will be found.

RUSSIAN REBELS ATTACK FOUR NATIVE VILLAGES

One Hundred Besiegers Are Slain By The Natives Of Armenia In The Attack.

[SPECIAL BY SCRIPPS-M'RAE.]

St. Petersburg, June 23.—Bands of insurgents in the district of Scharokhau, province of Erivan, Transcaucasia, recently sacked and burned four Armenian villages. Subsequently the insurgents surrounded and attacked Ovlannorashan. The inhabitants of the town repulsed the besiegers, killing 100 of them. Cossacks and other troops stationed at the village of Khouloundian also repulsed an attack of the insurgents on that place, inflicting enormous losses on them and capturing 870 prisoners, a quantity of arms and a black standard. The insurgent chiefs and mulahs were executed. Proclamations were found exhorting the Sunnites and Shites to join in a war against the common enemy.

Powers of New Assembly.

The Novoe Vremya announces definitely that the powers of the new popular assembly, which will be composed of 500 members elected for five years, will be co-equal with those of the council of the empire and that all legislation to become law must pass both houses and receive the emperor's approval.

TWENTY RECEIVE THEIR DIPLOMAS

GRADUATION EXERCISES IN SECOND DISTRICT

WERE HELD HERE YESTERDAY

Took Place in High School Building—A Hundred Friends and Relatives Present.

In the assembly room of the Janesville high school building yesterday afternoon were held the second annual commencement exercises of the rural schools in Rock county district number two. Diplomas were presented to twenty pupils who have completed a course of study in one of the schools in the eastern half of the county and about a hundred enjoyed the graduation program, which follows:

Piano Solo.....Miss Ethel Soper Song.....Bart. Hymn of the Republic Address—Supt. H. C. Buell....."The Value of Learning" Vocal Solo.....Mary Ludden Presentation of Diplomas.....Supt. O. D. Antisdel Vocal Solo.....Supt. H. C. Buell Song.....America

Freda Preusse Honored During the exercises honorable mention was made of the one who secured highest rank in the examinations. The successful contestant was Freda Preusse and she was closely followed by Bridgette McCarthy, Mabel Collins, Myrtle Draflach and Grace Crandall.

The Graduates Following is a list of those who were awarded diplomas: Myrtle Draflach, Clifford Walters, Freda Preusse, Bridgette McCarthy, Elena Grauback, Harold Weirick, Mayme Keough, Mabel Collins, Myrtle Christman, Laura Walker, Hugh Burdick, Ellen Auld, Muriel Grauback, Grace Crandall, Jessie McLean, Arthur Crandall, Walter McLean, Edith Kemp, Willie Vickerman, Louise Lentell.

Eight others were this year given county school diplomas in the second district but the presentation of these were made at graduation exercises in their own schools. Those who secured sheepskins at Emerald Grove were Victor Davidson, Fara Wetmore, Arthur Jones and Emma Hanson; those at Shopley were Harry Wright, Ina Truesdell, Clifford Shimeall and Lee Raymond.

Some in Autumn Twelve or fifteen more who failed in the examination on but one study will be given another chance to try for diplomas in the fall and the majority of these will doubtless attain their end.

FAMOUS FOOTBALL PLAYER TO TEACH

E. J. Haumerson, Appointed To Take A. H. Bartlett's Place on High School Faculty.

E. J. Haumerson, who has been teaching in the high school at Reedsburg during the past two years and served as assistant principal has been appointed to the faculty of the Janesville high school. He will succeed A. H. Bartlett as instructor of history and athletic coach and manager. Mr. Haumerson is a graduate of the Whitewater Normal school and of the Wisconsin State at Madison. While in the institution at Madison he was a member of the football team for a number of years played on the football team, making a gridiron name for himself in the west as star tackle. Besides his immense size and spry agility he was one of the Badger work's most heady players and his work here as coach of the football team should prove of benefit to the honor of the Janesville school athletically. Though a number of last year's good players were lost by graduation and by leaving school, the prospects are for a team that will be no means disgrace the blue, for some of the former stars are still in the school and others are expected back while a deal of raw material was last fall given its preliminary work on the second eleven.

SCHOOL DISTRICT OF MAGNOLIA CHILDREN OF MAGNOLIA DISTRICT NUMBER SEVEN ENJOY AN OUTING

Magnolia, June 22.—Miss Lizzie Ragn, teacher at the district number seven gave a picnic to her pupils on the school grounds last Friday. Dinner was served and the children spent the hours playing games while the older ones enjoyed themselves visiting. The day was an ideal one and everyone went home happy but tired with their day's outing.

SINISTER PURPOSE BEHIND SHAM-DUEL?

Friends of Marion Whittaker Laugh at Suggestion That Sword Contest Will Be Otherwise Than Acting.

When the management of the Nonesuch Shows acted on the suggestion of inducing Marion Whittaker, late of the Second U. S. Cavalry, to meet some opponent worthy of his steel in a broadsword combat on horseback, during the progress of the big Fourth of July pageant, it was with the distinct understanding that this spectacular engagement should be nothing more than a superb piece of acting. "Under no consideration," said the Nonesuch, "shall we permit Mr. Whittaker or anyone else to settle private wrongs and enmities under the cloak of supposedly harmless, though realistic, play with the blades. If the mysterious Unknown of the 7th Cavalry whom our soldier-citizen has engaged to meet shall prove at the final hour, to be a certain official of a neighboring city with whom he is known to have had some serious unpleasantness, the feature will be withdrawn at once and our local gentlemen called in necessary."

It is hardly likely, however, that any such contingency will arise. Friends of the Janesville man have the utmost confidence in his good faith in the matter. Even though he were tempted by burning wrongs he has suffered to seek satisfaction in some such manner, they do not believe that this good-lasty would permit him to make a gory spectacle on the nation's holiday and spatter our new pavement with the blood of a foe. Curiosity is whetted, however, and will not down until the visitor of this mysterious, stranger-swordsmen is lifted and his identity revealed, that all may see.

CLINTON BURGLARS MAY BE TRAPPED

Two Men Arrested in Sterling, Colorado, Had Satchels Full of Jewelry in Their Possession.

It is possible that two men arrested with grips full of jewelry at Sterling, Colorado, are the parties who burglarized the Griswold pharmacy and jewelry store at Clinton on the night of June 3. Word has been received from Marshal J. M. Collier of that city to the effect that prisoners and satchels will be held in custody until full descriptions of the stolen articles are forwarded. One of the local officers is in Chicago looking for additional means of identification of the missing jewelry. If the numbers of the watches correspond with those seized in the Colorado city, the officer may make a trip there and bring the two men back with him. It would of course be difficult to secure a conviction on the mere circumstantial evidence of this jewelry being found in the possession of two men, several hundreds of miles away, no description of the Clinton burglars, themselves, was ever secured.

MANY VISITORS AT THE BLIND SCHOOL

Witnessed the Closing Exercises of the Graduating Class Yesterday Afternoon.

Commencement exercises at the State School for the Blind closed yesterday with the presentation of diplomas to Sarah Davies of Corlies, Wis., and Julia Hanke of Altoona by Supt. C. R. Showalter. There was a large audience in attendance at the closing exercises and the students and visitors who took part in the literary and musical program made it a very interesting one.

Shade Trees Dying From Attacks of Cottony Scale

Milton Junction Telephone Gives Instructions How To Combat Disease.

Shade trees in the southern portion of the state says the Milton Junction Telephone, are being threatened with destruction from a cottony scale which has again made its appearance and residents are taking stringent measures in combating it. The scale, which attacks the soft-maple, and invariably ruins the tree, can be killed by spraying the affected limbs with a solution of water and kerosene, according to a formula of the state horticultural department. Delavan, Janesville and other Wisconsin cities are affected by the scale.

MRS. BARNES PLACED UNDER ARREST NOW

Postmistress of Delavan Taken to Milwaukee, Where She Is Held Under Bail.

Mrs. Adele Barnes, the pretty postmistress of Delavan, Wis., concerning whom there have been many stories circulated regarding alleged irregularities in her conduct of the Delavan postoffice, has been arrested at her home in Delavan by Deputy United States Marshal Alphon Johnson and brought to Milwaukee. She was arraigned before Court Commissioner Bloodgood charged with failing to deposit $1,500 at Chicago during the month of March in conformity with the postal laws. Mrs. Barnes waived preliminary examination and was released under bonds of $1,000, furnished immediately by Delavan before next fall, when the October before grand jury is called. Mrs. Barnes was removed as postmistress of Delavan last week after an examination of the postoffice records had been made by a postal inspector.

NO HEADS NO TAILS ON THE COMMON COIN

This Is the Decision of the Treasury Department on Much Mooted Question.

Persons who snap nickels for drinks on the theory "heads I win, tails you lose" are not running the sure thing used to, for the government officials at Washington have decided that there is no head or tail to a nickel or in fact any coin. The obverse and reverse sides are the proper terms to be used, but unfortunately the treasury department does not state which is which. Hence in the future when matching nickels or other coins between and say the "obverse" and "reverse" sides.

CRAZY MAN AGAIN SEEKS HIS FREEDOM

Fred Rankle Tires of the Restrictions of the County Asylum.

Evidently Fred Rankle does not appreciate the nice home he has at the county asylum, for he is continually making attempts to see the world on his own hook without the restraining influences of the asylum attendants. It is a little over three weeks since he made his last venture into the outside world only to be found at Rockford and returned to the home the county has provided for him. Now he is again at liberty and the county authorities are in search for him. Rankle is not a dangerous lunatic, but his foolish actions coupled with his repulsive appearance may frighten women and children he might encounter. The description of the missing man is as follows: Fred Rankle escaped from the institution Wednesday, June 22. He is a German about 45 years old, rather short and thick set, dark swarthy complexion, dark hair cut short and grows low over forehead. Had on grey checked coat, dark pants and hickory shirt marked "Rankle" or "Duskwil"; soft black hat marked "Gilbert", barefooted. Talks German poorly and is hard to understand, is very repulsive, and ill-looked, but harmless, is inclined to preach and talk to himself and will be likely to stalk and hide in the woods.

PLEASANT CHURCH PICNIC AT CRYSTAL SPRINGS PARK

Nearly Two Hundred Participated in the Annual Outing of St. John's Lutheran Congregation.

Nearly two hundred people participated in the annual picnic of the congregation of St. John's Lutheran church which was held at Crystal Springs Park yesterday. The trip was made by boat, the first delegation leaving at half-past ten in the morning. An elaborate picnic dinner was served and the afternoon was devoted to games and a literary and musical program.

The saloons are closed on Sunday. Four hundred delegates, including ministers and teachers, are assembled at Manitowish in the annual convention of the Wisconsin-Minnesota Evangelical Lutheran synod. The most important question that will come before the convention is that of establishing another seminary for ministers in addition to those now within the scope of the synod—Northwestern college at Watertown, and those of Wauwatosa and New Ulm, Minn.

A good thing—a want ad.

Labor Notes

President John Mitchell, of the United Mine Workers, intimates that it will not be long before he will resign from the presidency of the organization.

Laborers and skilled mechanics continue to return from Panama, discouraged by the labor and health conditions on the Canal work.

A crusade against sweatshops, under the new Child Labor law, has been started by the Pennsylvania factory inspectors.

Mayor McClellan of New York has vetoed the bill increasing salaries of street cleaners.

In the 271 British trade-unions, with an aggregate membership of 578,884, making returns, 32,553, or 5.6 per cent, were reported as unemployed at the end of March, 1905, as compared with 6.2 at the end of February, and 6 per cent at the end of March, 1904.

Out of 10,252 members of 133 Norwegian trade-unions, which made returns to the Norwegian Central Bureau of statistics $97, or 8.2 per cent, were out of work at the end of January; 911 (8.1 per cent) out of membership of 10,064 were reported out of work by the same 133 unions, and 539 (5.3 per cent) out of membership of 10,035 at the end of November, 1904.

QUIET WEDDING CELEBRATED ON WEDNESDAY AFTERNOON

On Wednesday afternoon last Miss Maud M. Sixbury of Newport, Nebraska, was married to Mr. George B. Pratt at the parsonage of the Congregational church by Rev. Dennis Pratt, the bride attended by Miss Ella Pratt, a sister of the groom, and the groom by Mr. LeRoy Kennedy of Beloit. Immediately after the ceremony the couple repaired to Mr. Pratt's parents' residence, 106 South Main street, where a tempting supper was served. Mr. Pratt is a native of Beloit and his bride is from the happy couple will make their home at 207 South Main street.

BARN AND LIVESTOCK DESTROYED BY FIRE

Which Started on the F. C. Barker Farm Near Clinton Yesterday.

F. C. Barker's farm near Clinton was the scene of a disastrous fire which yesterday totally destroyed a large barn and several small outbuildings. A horse and cow and four calves perished in the flames. The origin of the flames is a mystery. When discovered they were well under way. The farm was leased to Mr. Millard and the property was insured in the La. Prairie company.

KICKERS' KOLUM

Editor of Kicker's Kolum: What is the trouble with the children of the ward schools of the city? What is the reason that they are not as much entitled to receive a diploma when they graduate from the grammar school as the country children? I noticed a few days ago that twenty-six of the country children who had passed their examination were to be given diplomas with all the ceremony attending any other graduation, which is just as it should be. It makes a red-letter day in those children's lives, something to look forward to and something to always remember with pleasure and pride, marking the fact that some object has been attained. But why not do the same for our own children who finish as graduates of school? They work just as hard as the country children and I might almost say harder, for I have noticed many times that if a country child comes to the city he will invariably be put back a grade lower than he was at home, but when our children finish graded school they are given a little card admitting them to the high school, very similar to their promotion cards they had received each year. Not one half of them ever graduate from high school. But what a pleasure a neat little diploma would be to the majority of them, and it does not seem that it would be such a great burden to the teachers to let them have some nice little exercise that their parents could attend. It is done in Chicago and other cities and as a taxpayer and one who believes in progress for our city, I ask you can't our children have as much recognition as our country cousins?

CHAPTER XXII.

Monday morning, 11 days exactly from that last and memorable meeting of the directors of the Nicaragua Midland, when Paul North's coming was awaited in vain, Thornton Stackhouse staggered into the office of Detective Lamm.

ONE HAND CLUTCHING A PEN AND IN THE OTHER A REVOLVER FROM WHICH A TINY WREATH OF SMOKE WAS CURLING.

A few hours had wrought a great change in the man—a change for the worst. Careworn before, he was now absolutely haggard. But one look was needed to assure Mr. Lamm that his visitor had passed a sleepless, wretched night.

Unmistakable signs of debauch, too, were to be observed. His lips twitched strangely; the lines of his anxious face were more deeply drawn; an unhealthy blotched redness had taken the place of once healthy color, and there was an incessant trembling of the hands, unusual and ominous.

Mr. Lamm, with a good deal of concern expressed in his look, sprang up to greet him, and assisted the man to a chair.

"Why, Mr. Stackhouse," he exclaimed, "you are not well. Why did you come down town this morning? You should have sent for me. You are in no condition to be out in the street on such a warm day. Let me call a carriage. I will go down to your room at the Adams house and talk with you there, if you like."

Thornton Stackhouse shook his head and put out a trembling hand.

"No—no," he said, huskily. "You are very good to think of it. Perhaps I should not have left my room. But the hotel is a horror to me, sir. I cannot set foot in the hall without meeting the scowling face of some creditor of North & Stackhouse. People point after me as I walk along, and talk under their breath about me. Fools! They think I do not see these things. I am followed here, there, and everywhere, hounded like an escaped convict. Saturday I lay down on a bed, and they broke open my room to make sure I had not escaped them! I thank you, Mr. Lamm, for all that you have done and meant to do for me. But I have made up my mind not to endure this life any longer. I am going away."

"Nonsense!" returned Mr. Lamm, cheerfully, with his hand on the man's shoulder, but looking anxiously, none the less, into his haggard face. "Stick to your colors a little longer. The light is almost over."

"Almost over!" Stackhouse echoed the words with a curious, dull intonation. "My hopes of happiness are wrecked. The future is dark—all dark. The shadow of crime, once it falls on a man's life, can never be lifted. You know how terribly true that is, Mr. Lamm. This is no more than my just deserts. No more. Yes, I am going away. Whatever the risk I care not. Why should I stay in this city of torment?"

Mr. Lamm gave another friendly touch upon the shoulder of the dejected figure, but his own look of anxiety was only intensified.

"Wait!" said the detective, in tones of sympathy. "The truth is coming, and it is coming fast. You have trusted me so far. Don't cast my advice to the winds now."

"I do not care the turn of my hand whether the truth comes out to-day or to-morrow, or never," gloomily answered Stackhouse, looking at the face bent near his own, with hollow, despairing eyes. "I have no longer any interest in any possible event that may happen to me. But out of this horrible place and these horrible surroundings I mean to go, and without delay. Mr. Lamm, I thank you again for the noble way in which you have helped me."

"Don't speak of that," interposed Mr. Lamm.

"I must speak of it. In all my trouble and remorse I have not forgotten it. And now let me have your bill, Mr. Lamm, and I will draw my check for the amount at once—the last check that Thornton Stackhouse will ever fill out in Boston."

"My dear sir," Mr. Lamm remonstrated, "I have no bill to present. Why, my work is not done yet. When the proper time comes I shall not forget it, be sure of that," he added, with assumed lightness of manner.

Stackhouse got up rather unsteadily, but with a filled purpose in his look.

"Let me go into your inner office," he asked, "and make out a check if it's only as a matter of form. Besides, I want to write a moment or another matter, and I should like to be undisturbed by any chance caller, you might have."

Mr. Lamm was at the door of his little "den" in a moment, opened his desk, and placed pen and paper at his visitor's disposal. Stackhouse sat down, and the detective went out, softly closing the door upon the client at his work.

Roused from certain regretful momentary meditations by the entrance of his trusted worker, "Bill," Mr. Lamm began to talk with him in an undertone.

In the very middle of their hushed conference both men started and looked wildly around.

The sound of an explosion came to their ears with terrible distinctness.

It was unmistakably a pistol shot. Moved by a common impulse, both rushed toward the inner office. When Detective Lamm pushed open the door and went in, his subordinate was close behind.

The room was full of smoke. But the cloud lifted as the current of fresher air entered, and in an instant the two were staring into a face—a face that did not return their look of horror, the face of a dead man.

Dead! Sitting up in his chair at Mr. Lamm's desk, with one hand clutching a pen, and in the other a revolver, from which a tiny wreath of smoke was curling, was the form of Thornton Stackhouse.

No true had been his aim, that the transition from life to death could have taken scarcely a second of time. He had blown out his brains.

With a stifled cry Mr. Lamm's companion started back. His white face met at the outer door the frightened look of another man, a conveyance, who had an office close by.

"A man has shot himself in there!" whispered Bill. The newcomer hurried out of the room. Others, alarmed at the report of the pistol, were hurrying to the scene; and in an incredibly short space of time every occupant of the building seemed to be possessed of the startling news.

John Lamm quickly regained his accustomed composure, and barred the outer door in advance of the rush of the excited throng which he knew was coming.

He returned, a moment later, to the little room, paying not the slightest heed to the crush without, or to the loud and reiterated demands: "Let us in! Let us in!"

In the dead man's clenched hand, which Mr. Lamm made no attempt to unclasp, was held a 32-caliber revolver. The other hand held a pen.

Written on the blotter of the desk was this, the last message of Thornton Stackhouse:

"Send for my wife, Marion Stackhouse. Tell her my death is my reparation. I can forgive her if she can forgive me. But I cannot live without her."

Mr. Lamm read the words, and gave a look full of pity at the motionless figure sitting there—so near him, yet in an awful sense so far removed.

The stenographer, demand at the outer door had ceased when he reentered his main office, but there was a dull murmur, which grew to a very babel of excited sounds, when Mr. Lamm's form was seen on the threshold.

Two men were standing close to the door, having apparently been given that post of distinction by common consent of the crowd, who held back a little way.

Mr. Lamm knew his men at once. "Gentlemen," he said, gravely, "you are outwitted!"

"They made a pretense of misunderstanding him,"

"What do you mean?" said the older man.

"I mean," returned the detective, quietly, "that you can inform your inspector that your services will be no longer necessary. The inner room, gentlemen."

He waved his hand for them to enter. They hurried in. In another minute one of them came out, forced his way through the increasing throng which blocked the entrance, and hurried after Inspector Applebee.

Mr. Lamm turned gravely to his assistant.

"Go to Richard Petridge's office," he said, in a low tone, "and have him here at once. Don't explain. Don't listen to any excuses for delay."

The man pushed through the crowd and was off like a shot.

Both messengers were signally successful.

To the immense satisfaction of the breathless officer in citizen's clothes, he met Inspector Applebee coming down the street holding his course directly in the line taken by Mr. Lamm's messenger.

Two words, and the inspector hurried toward the scene of death, and found his way through the press. Mr. Lamm, waiting at the door, bowed and admitted him at once.

With Inspector Applebee and his man, a great surge of excited humanity rushed into Mr. Lamm's office. Only by dint of the most active exertions could the police keep back the eager crowd from the little room.

Presently there was a stir at the outer door. Attention was diverted for the moment from what the little room contained of animate or inanimate humanity, as Mr. Petridge, visibly excited, entered the office under the guidance of Mr. Lamm's messenger.

Mr. Lamm, counting upon his speedy coming, was on the watch, and with the cooperation of Inspector Applebee, to whom the detective deferred as being the representative in authority, Richard Petridge was admitted to the inner room.

"A horrible sight!" he murmured, putting his hands before his face, and leaning against one of the officers. In a few moments he had recovered, but avoided, as much as he could, turning any glance toward the desk.

"Do you remember what Daniel Webster said once?" Petridge spoke to Mr. Lamm under his breath, but not so low that the listening ear of Inspector Applebee did not catch every word: "There is no refuge for the murderer but suicide. And suicide is confession!"

Hardly was the sentence uttered, when Inspector Applebee, as if aroused by some sudden thought, ordered the officers to clear the outer room and to prevent further blockade upon the stairway.

"Not you, of course," said the inspector, addressing generally the little group. No word was spoken by them while the orders were carried out, not without some difficulty. When the room was cleared, at last, the inspector motioned to one of his men to remain by the body, and led the way into the larger room, Mr. Lamm and Mr. Petridge following in turn.

Taking no note of the detective, Inspector Applebee wheeled upon his companion and clapped a firm hand on his arm.

"I am sorry to have to say it, Mr. Petridge, but I must take you into custody."

Richard Petridge stood aghast, unable to articulate a syllable.

Self-poised as ever, Mr. Lamm took his cue to speak.

"Inspector Applebee," he said, very coolly, "it is not my business, perhaps, but you are sure that in arresting Mr. Petridge you are not making a mistake?"

The inspector put on at once his invisible robe of official dignity.

"I think I know what I am about, Mr. Lamm. He was very curt."

OFTEN THE BEST PART OF LIFE

Help for Women Passing Through Change of Life

Providence has allotted us each at least seventy years in which to fulfill our mission in life, and it is generally our own fault if we die prematurely.

Mrs. Mary Koehne

Nervous exhaustion invites disease. This statement is the positive truth.

When everything becomes a burden and you cannot walk a few blocks without into perspiration easily, and your face flushes, and you grow excited and shaky at the least provocation, and you cannot bear to be crossed in anything, you are in danger; your nerves have given out; you need building up at once! To build up woman's nervous system and during the period of change of life we know of no better medicine than Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Here is an illustration. Mrs. Mary L. Koehne, 371 Garfield Avenue, Chicago, Ill., writes:

"I have used Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for years in my family and it never disappoints; so when I felt that I was nearing the change of life I commenced treatment with it. I took in all about six bottles and it did me a great deal of good. It stopped my dizzy spells, pains in my back and the headaches with which I had suffered for months before taking the Compound. I feel that if it had not been for this great medicine for women that I should not have been alive to-day. It is splendid for women, old or young, and will surely cure all female disorders."

Mrs. Pinkham, of Lynn, Mass., invites all sick and ailing women to write her for advice. Her great experience is at their service, free of cost.

BROKER GASKILL ALIVE
AWAITS CHANCE TO SKIP

Persistent Rumors in Philadelphia That Man Who Manipulated Securities Did Not Die in May.

Philadelphia, Pa., June 23.—Financial circles have been stirred by the persistent rumor that Benjamin H. Gaskill, whose manipulation of stock certificates was one of the causes of the crash of the City Trust company, did not die in May, but was still alive and in hiding, awaiting an opportunity to slip away to Europe.

This was strengthened by the statement from the administrators of Gaskill's affairs that his body was taken from North Laurel Hill cemetery and shipped to Boston. Inquiry at the cemetery showed that the box had been removed by a man who had the necessary permit. After the supposed death of Gaskill the body was placed in a vault temporarily.

When the crash in the City Trust came the street began to revive rumors to the effect that Gaskill had committed suicide. It was remembered that there had been no funeral and for several days no one knew where the body had been buried.

Heidie London, manager of Gaskill's company, declared that he had seen the body and went into the details of its appearance. Coroner Dugan, who gave the death certificate, said if any one would make affidavit declaring that Gaskill was still alive he would begin an investigation which would lead to the bringing back of the body from Boston and examining its contents.

Col. H. W. Gray, a heavy depositor in the City Trust company, said that Hampton Moore was brought from Washington with the understanding that the company was about to fail and that it was understood his post was to be receiver and not president.

Gray will organize the depositors, cause a legal investigation, and take steps to upset the receivership.

GIVE REPRIEVES TO SLAYERS

Johann Hoch, "Jocko" Briggs and Mrs. Rogers Gain Time.

Chicago, June 23.—Johann Hoch, convicted of wife murder, and "Jocko" Briggs, found guilty of the murder of Hans Peterson, were each granted a new lease of life, Briggs by a superadeas granted by the supreme court; Hoch by a reprieve sent by the governor, postponing the day of his execution to July 28. This will give Hoch time to raise money and get his case before the supreme court.

Brattleboro, Vt., June 23.—A reprieve until Dec. 8 for Mrs. Mary M. Rogers, the condemned murderer, was signed by Gov. Charles J. Bell, and for the third time the woman who was to have been hanged at Windsor for killing her husband, has now been saved through the operation of the governor's power of staying the execution.

Prohibits American Boycott.

Pekin, June 23.—Viceroy Yuan has prohibited students from holding meetings in reference to the boycotting of American manufactured goods at Tientsin and has also issued a strong proclamation against merchants interfering with affairs in the hands of the government.

Favor the Block System.

Denver, Colo., June 23.—The annual convention of the Train Dispatchers' association has reiterated its stand in favor of the "block system" for handling trains.

PARTY LOYALTY.

The Chicago Chronicle, which, by the way, is the best edited and strongest republican paper in the city, recently took the Chicago Tribune to task for its lack of party loyalty.

The Tribune has long been noted for its vacillating policy and the republican party has been at a loss to know just where to find the paper on many important questions.

For the past few years it has been mixed up with the civic federation and much of its inspiration has been gathered from that source. The independent voter, the man who cuts loose from party and party affiliations and advocates to himself more wisdom than the party possesses, is the ideal citizen.

To this class of men the Tribune appeals, in fact the paper poses as the embodiment of political wisdom. It instructs the voter as to who he shall support, ignoring the party, and exalting the individual candidate whose name happens to adorn the preferred list.

The Chronicle very properly takes the Tribune to task, claiming that the time has come where every republican owes it to himself, to the party and to the nation, to stand loyally in the ranks, and defend the principles which he professes to espouse.

The republican party is today the hope of the nation, and the obligations resting upon the party are not only peculiar, but also of very grave importance. It is the only party in the country that stands for honest and rational government.

The old democrat party, which for years was its strong and wholesome competitor, is a thing of the past. Internal strife and popular heresy, wrought its ruin, and all hope of resurrection is abandoned.

There will be no democratic convention in 1908, except in name. The conclusion which responds to the call will be a Bryan aggregation pure and simple, and when the meeting is over, Bryanism, full fledged and well organized, will compete for national control.

The only other party which will command attention is the socialist party and this will weaken as Bryanism comes to the fore.

The conservative element of the democratic party will either remain neutral or join the ranks of the republican party for self protection.

These men possess level headed common sense, and there is no occasion for anxiety on their account, but the republican party has in it an element which is so tinctured with socialism and theoretical reform, that it is a growing menace to party welfare.

The Tribune, and a few other journals of this class, claiming to be republican, as well as a long list of literary magazines, which pose as leaders in the realm of advanced thought, champions this new cause, and Wisconsin has a senator-governor who is now in training as the leader of the new party.

His ambition is to spring into the arena at the republican convention in 1908 as the new Moses of republicanism. He has reformed Wisconsin to the queen's taste, and starts out this summer to reform the nation.

His chautauque tour last season was the opening wedge, and when he retired from the platform after a long harangue on "representative government," weak kneed republicans of the Tribune stripe, applauded to the echo.

He will talk to similar audiences this year about the "menace of the machine," and when he gets through, his enthusiastic admirers will wonder how they manage to exist in an atmosphere so polluted with corruption.

The republican party will be confronted with more issues in the next campaign than ever before. Bryanism will be strong and well organized. La Folletteism will not be far behind, for people are restless and the reformer is the popular man today.

It is a time when republicans, who are able to give a reason for the faith that is in them, should stand by the party in a spirit of loyalty.

The press, which carries the party banner, occupies a position of trust and responsibility. The party has some claims upon it which it has no right to ignore.

and perpetuity of a republic. They are the medium and the only medium through which the wishes and will of the people are expressed.

The man who prides himself on being an independent, is a political orphan. He is more than that, because he fails to appreciate in the slightest degree the duties of citizenship.

The paper which adopts the same policy is an orphan asylum, destitute of influence and bereft of a party home.

"It will be worth something in the campaign of 1908 to say: 'I am a republican.'"

The state of Wisconsin will have a taste of government by commission. When the new rate board and civil service board get down to business, there will be something doing all along the line. "The world do move," and the Badger state is in the procession.

Castro is out of patience with France. Why delay with Germany? Just talk back right smartly and follow the lead of a former Venezuelan president.

It will not require a telescope to discover Gov. Folk of Missouri when the democrats begin to look about for a presidential candidate in 1908.

It would seem as though King Edward might call up his noisy nephew the German Emperor and give him a good talking to.

It is perhaps safer to travel slower than eighteen hours between Chicago and New York and arrive there in one piece.

The vaudeville performance at Madison has closed, after a long and heated session. The state will breathe more freely.

One of the objections to the Fourth of July is that it is usually started to be observed about the middle of June.

PRESS COMMENT.

Madison Journal: One of the penalties of hard work is that each success means new stunts.

La Crosse Chronicle: The Fourth of July is the next thing on the program. We'll all have a headache when it is over.

Chicago Chronicle: Bandmaster Brooke is the promoter of a new concert called "Klatsch" to which women only are admitted and at which they are allowed to chatter to their hearts' content.

Chicago Tribune: An overruling Providence may give Johnny a case of appendicitis before the Fourth of July carnage reaches its height. The berry season is on.

Fond du Lac Bulletin: These are pretty warm days, but they would be warmer for some people if the district attorney would do his plain duty and call for the appointment of a grand jury.

Boston Journal: Over 137,000 immigrants landed on these shores during the month of April, and 41,428 of them were Italians. How long can this country assimilate the indigestible mass?

Exchange: The dancing masters have decided to quit calling themselves professors. Gentlemen who exhibit trained dogs and educated pigs will, however, be professors as heretofore.

Milwaukee News: Mr. Haugen, however, may console himself with the reflection that he is secure in his attachment to the treasury and undisturbed. Parties are necessary to the life. Buy it in Janesville.

in his devotion to the paramount "principle" of "the cause."

La Crosse Leader-Press: Minister Bowen's letter to Secretary Taft, then acting secretary of state, addressed "My Dear Bill," must have jarred administration dignity and perhaps had something to do with his removal.

El Paso Herald: The solar eclipse of August 30 will be total for much of the world, but in the United States it will be only partial. Old Sol does not like to leave this country unwatched for fear it may be napping.

Chicago Record-Herald: Out in California a member of the state legislature has framed a law which, if adopted, will make it necessary for a man and woman to swear when they apply for a marriage license that they are not crazy. We suspect that the author of the bill has been trying to support a $3,000-a-year wife on a salary of $50 a month.

Menasha Record: A Missionary says that a native of India having translated the hymn, "Rock of Ages, cleft me, let me hide myself in Thee," the version proved to be literally as follows: "Very old stone, split for my benefit, let me absent myself under one of your fragments." Which is probably why missionary work is sometimes slow.

Oshkosh Northwestern: Even the Cheefoo liar would be put to shame by the story of a young reporter at Neenah, who tells how the hair on a wax figure in one of the stores there has actually grown about an inch and a half during the past two years, necessitating the services of a barber to trim it back to a more convenient and becoming length.

Milwaukee Free Press: The circuit court at Springfield, Ill., has decided that a kiss over a telephone wire is not a sufficient cause for divorce. A married woman recently sent a kiss in that manner and her husband brought suit for separation. No particulars are given as to whether he was at home, or at the other end of the circuit, where the kiss was sent; or whether the party receiving it went and told.

Rockford Register-Gazette: The report of Head Clerk Hawes of the M. W. A. to the head camp at Milwaukee Tuesday, brought out some surprising figures with reference to accidents to farmers, an occupation generally supposed to be almost free from danger. Last year the order had 2,991 deaths from accident and 248 deaths from suicide. Of the latter 248 were farmers—30.85 per cent of the total number. The farmers led in accidental deaths—535.

The Evening Wisconsin: The accident by which two young men at Kenosha lost their lives is one that should be carefully guarded against wherever electricity is in use. A guy wire crossed by an electric light wire became charged with deadly current. One of the young fellows inadvertently touched it and was instantly killed. Later, the other, undertaking to show how his companion had lost his life, met the same fate, and a dog which touched its nose to the wire was shocked to death. Sheer carelessness is responsible for the conditions which make possible most of the fatalities of this sort.

Chicago Tribune: The persons who plead for the total abolition of capital punishment are consistent. Those who are willing to have men hanged but protest against the execution of a woman under any circumstances are governed by sentiment rather than by logic. Theoretically, both sexes ought to be equal before the law in criminal and in civil courts. But when there is a conflict between sentiment and logic, the latter almost invariably gets the worst of it. The feeling that it is wrong for the state to take the life of a woman, no matter how bloodstained her hands may be, a feeling almost unknown a century ago, is powerful now. Because of it few murderers go to the gallows, and fewer still will go there in the future.

MARY HUMPHREY ON HER HOMEWARD TRIP

Her Sickness Was of Short Duration and Due to Overexertion in Caring for Fever Patients.

Miss Mary Humphrey, the Janesville young lady who is serving as a trained nurse in the Government hospital at Ancon, Canal Zone, has recovered from her recent illness and is now on her way home for a vacation. Her illness lasted but two days and was due to overwork in caring for the yellow fever patients. On account of the absence of one of the nurses Miss Humphrey was on the night force for a short time and in returning to her day work she failed to receive a rest and was taken ill. Though she was thought to have malarial fever at the time, her complaint was very light and nothing serious. Miss Humphrey sailed for New York either Sunday or Monday and is expected to arrive here July 1. Her journey on sea will last five or six days. She will spend her vacation with her mother in this city.

REV. SILAS SWALLOW MAY LECTURE HERE

W. C. T. U. Attempting to Bring Former Presidential Candidate to Janesville.

The W. C. T. U. held their regular meeting Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Willard Robinson. The ladies of the Harmony Union were present by invitation, and were royally entertained by the Janesville women. Under the order of business it was decided that the Rev. Silas Swallow, of the Janesville church, be secured to deliver one of her "health lectures" in the Congregational church parlors Friday afternoon at 3 o'clock. It was also decided to hold their regular union service on the twenty-seventh of August and to secure it possible for speaker the Rev. Silas Swallow. After greetings had been extended to the Harmony ladies and responses made by them, the following program was presented: Recitation.....Master Chas. Hield. Duet.....The Misses Howard and Hamersland. Recitation.....Master Howard Miller. Reading—How Pence Came to Peaceful.....Mrs. Daisy Athon. Duet.....Miss McDonald and Mrs. Grove. Poem.....Mrs. Poorman. Recitation.....Chas. Hield. After the program closed a very enjoyable social hour was spent and a bounteous supper was served. The ladies all departed feeling that a most delightful as well as profitable afternoon had been passed.

BEGIN INQUIRY AS TO THE ACCIDENT

Wreck of the Twentieth Century Limited Will Be Carefully Probed.

[SPECIAL BY SCRIPPS-MAGE.] New York, June 22.—District Attorney Jerome appeared before Recorder Goff this morning and asked the court to continue the June term indefinitely in order that the prosecutors might have the aid of the court in connection with the proposed investigation of the Equitable affairs. Jerome said in view of the vast interests involved he felt it imperative to make a full investigation. The motion was granted.

WHOLESALE THEFT OF FOWL BY A CLEVER CHICKEN THIEF

Ed Parker of the Town of La Prairie Lost Fifty Fowls During Last Night.

Some clever chicken thief with all the modern and approved methods of a rubberized buggy drove up to Ed Parker's henhouse in the town of La Prairie last night and gathered in between forty and fifty of his choicest fowls and departed. The buggy was traced towards the east, but it is probable that at a convenient turning point it came back to Janesville. Mr. Parker heard a noise during the night but did not get up to investigate.

CURRENT NEWS NOTES.

Drunks in Court: John Swanson was fined $2 for drunkenness in municipal court this morning and paid the fine. Judge Earle gave Nathan Thornton five days in jail and a fine of $2 and costs or five additional days. John Williams was given $3 and costs or eight days in jail; Michael O'Gar, $3 and costs, or eight days; Burt Wheelock, $2 and costs or five days. The four last named took their jail sentences, being unable to furnish the cash.

Engine Off Track: Near the arch on North River street at one o'clock this afternoon a North-Western switch-engine drawing four freights jumped the track and bumped into a lumber pile. Two of the cars left the rails. The crew was busy for some time setting the rolling stock back on the rails again.

Caught a Runaway: A runaway horse from some unknown point in the city, still carrying some badly used-up harness but minus any vehicle, was captured by James Sheridan, driver at the Spring Brook fire station this morning. No one had put in an appearance at noon to claim the animal.

Off With the Band: The delegation of local Knights of Pythias, the baseball team, and the Imperial band, left on the 12:40 train today for Clinton, where a baseball game is in progress this afternoon. At the last moment it was found that Fred Blakeley could not go and his place in the pitcher's box would have to be taken by Clerk of Court Ward Stevens.

First Ward Depredations: Some bad breakings in the First Ward have been brought to the sewer-pipe piled up in that locality. Unless these depredations cease some arrests will be made.

Marriage Licenses: Marriage licenses have been applied for by Francis Coen and Alice Henry, both of La Prairie; Harrison E. Sargent and Bertha C. Simons, both of Beloit.

WILL RUN SPECIAL CARS ON HOLIDAYS

The Rockford, Beloit and Janesville Interurban To Meet Demand for More Cars.

The Rockford, Beloit & Janesville R. Co. are arranging to double their half-hour service on Sundays and special days, running a car with trailer or two cars on every half-hour during the busy part of the day. This will insure the patrons of the road plenty of room and comfortable service. The fine Sundays are being taken advantage of by many to spend a day along the river or at one of the parks, and the new service will take away the chance of having to catch a crowded car going or coming.

THOSE WHO DENY THE CENSUS MAN

Information He Is Seeking Are Liable to a $25 Fine—Some Inexcusable Rudeness Reported.

"It's none of your business what my age is. You've no business to ask such questions." This was one of yesterday's choice assortment of answers to the census enumerators. Their paths are not lined with roses. Women, mistaking them for book-agents, refuse to pay any attention to the door-bells. One slammed a door in the official's face when he stated his mission yesterday. Even County Clerk Lee has his annoyances. In answer to a letter, reminding a town clerk that his oath for the collection of the census statistics must be sent in at once, he today received this answer: "I'll send the oath when I get ready and not before." City Clerk Badger said this morning: "The information which these enumerators are gathering is not peddled. The men are sworn to secrecy and the information which they return to the state is not made public. No one is relieved of the obligation to answer their questions. Section 1000 of the census laws provides a fine of $25 for those who refuse to give the statistics asked for." Those at work in the city are Frank Holt in the first ward and Fred Holt in the second; D. D. Bennett and C. F. Lester, third ward; C. E. Curtis, fourth ward, and George Croft, fifth ward.

OBITUARY

Merrill Crissey
The remains of the late Merrill Crissey were shipped this morning at 8:20 o'clock over the Northwestern road to Marengo, Ill. Funeral services will be held there this afternoon at three o'clock. The body was accompanied by a son of the deceased, L. K. Crissey and family.

Luella Cecelia Whipple
Mrs. Luella Cecelia Whipple, wife of J. H. Whipple and formerly Miss Dustin of this city, died in Chicago on June 19. Deceased was a sister of Mrs. Stephen Hotelling of Janesville and had many friends in this vicinity.

William Spencer
Funeral services over the remains of the late William Spencer will be held from the home, 101 Washington street Sunday morning at half-past eight o'clock. Rev. J. H. Tippet officiating. The body will be taken to Madison at half-past nine o'clock and interment will be in that city.

T. F. Flaherty
All that is mortal of the late T. F. Flaherty will be tenderly interred in Mount Olivet cemetery tomorrow, services being held at nine o'clock from the St. Patrick's church.

R. Paul Jones
R. Paul Jones passed from this life at his home, No. 3 Sharon street, this city, Thursday night at fifteen minutes after eleven o'clock. Mr. Jones was born in Forestville, N. Y., Nov. 4, 1837, and came with his parents to Wisconsin when he was seven years of age, settling upon a farm in Harmony township, but soon after the family moved to this city and into the second ward, where he has lived until April 27 of this year, when he moved into a new house on Sharon street. He was the youngest and last of a family of seven brothers and sisters. He served as a soldier in the 22d regiment, Co. E, Wis. Volunteers, and at the close of the war was married to Miss Harriet Chase, Nov. 13, 1865, in Towanda, Penn. He was a member of the fire department in the early days and was for some time chief of the department. He was long employed by the late Mr. Torroughgood in his factory and was employed at other times in the Jeffries mills and other places of wood working until failing health compelled him to give up active business, and he had lived quietly the past year enjoying his home life which was especially attractive to his unassuming nature. He leaves to mourn his wife, two daughters and one son—Mrs. Carrie J. Bates of Chicago, Maude L. wife of W. E. Thresher and whose home is in Las Vegas, New Mexico, and Chas. J., now living in Fond du Lac. The funeral will be held at the home at half-past two Sunday afternoon.

Donnelly Fails to Remember Anything
President of the Butchers' Union Cannot Tell Who Assaulted Him Three Years Ago.
[SPECIAL BY SCRIPPS-MAGE.] Chicago, June 22.—Michael Donnelly, president of the Butchers' union and leader of the stock-yards' strikes of a year ago, was a witness before the grand jury today in the labor graft investigation. Donnelly was unable to tell the jury who assaulted him three years ago after he refused a strike settlement on a plan proposed by John Driscoll, R. E. Moffat of Sears, Roebuck & Co., and E. Felsenthal, a business man, and declared he had no knowledge of the use of money in the strike settlements.

BASKET PICNIC SATURDAY, JULY 1
In a grove near Fort Atkinson Saturday, July 1, will be held the annual basket picnic of the Janesville Council number 198 and Watertown number 247 United Commercial Travelers. Beside the pleasures that can be found in spending the day in a cool and quiet place away from business life, in fishing and boating there will be a baseball game between the two councils. The committees in charge of the celebration are as follows: Arrangements—D. Notz, H. C. Dochow, M. C. Fish. Amusements—W. J. Kyle, W. L. Beach, O. B. Cornish, M. C. Whitford, F. F. Nicholson, F. A. Spoon, W. E. Clinton, G. J. Nichols, Chas. Heinster, Ben Zillisch. Reception—Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Beach, Mr. and Mrs. O. B. Cornish, Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Case, Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Kyle, Mr. H. S. Vickery, Mr. W. J. Brown.

INSTITUTE WILL BE HELD HERE IN JULY

About a Hundred and Fifty Pedagogues Expected to Spend Two Weeks Studying.

Arrangements for the annual teachers' institute for the pedagogues of Rock county will be completed tomorrow afternoon at a meeting of the two county superintendents and those men who have been appointed conductors. The institution this summer will last two weeks, commencing July 27, and as usual are to be held in the Janesville high school building. About one hundred and fifty teachers are expected to attend and they will receive their instruction from H. C. Buell, who will be leading conductor, that is, the one in charge of the gathering. Professor A. A. Upham of Whitewater, Principal R. J. Eddy of Sun Prairie and Assistant Principal F. L. Doudna of Edgerton will also be in attendance.

MONSTER TRADING EVENT.

Nichols Department Stores To Hold Three-Week Reduction Sale.

A three-week's stock reduction sale which will make a new page in business history for Janesville is to be inaugurated by the Nichols Company Department Store Saturday, June 24, and continues until Saturday, July 15. A tremendous downward sweep has been made in prices on every item in their big stock and the fact that purchasers will not be limited in the quantity of their purchases will be the means of stocking up hundreds of households in Janesville. A comprehensive idea of the magnitude of this sale may be gained by referring closely to the two-page announcement elsewhere in the paper. This list of items will not appear again and it should be laid aside for reference—it will be helpful in making your selections.

SEIDEL WILL EXPOSE FELLOWS

Says He is About to Reveal Boondoggling Extending Over Six Years.

Milwaukee, Wis., June 23.—Otto Seidel, Jr., who resigned as register of deeds, said he would tell the grand jury about every boondoggling deal in which members of the county board had participated for the last six years. "Deals involving between $14,000 and $20,000," he said, "will be laid bare." The principal cases in which money was used, Seidel said, were in the purchase of a site for a morgue and furniture for the county hospital. Proceedings in the contempt cases against a number of supervisors came to an abrupt ending in Justice Braze's court, with the understanding that the committee of supervisors would take no further steps toward investigation of alleged corruption among its own members, which would interfere with the work of the grand jury. The grand jury began its work of investigating corruption. A large number of indictments is expected.

Election Law is Void.

Lincoln, Neb., June 23.—The biennial Nebraska election law, passed by the last Nebraska legislature and designed to do away with "off-year" elections, was declared unconstitutional by the supreme court of that state.

DECLARES THE WORLD IS CRUEL.

Indiana Woman Thus Explains Her Mysterious Disappearance.

Logansport, Ind., June 23.—Mystery surrounding the disappearance of Mrs. Edward Smith from Onward deepened when she returned and her husband disposed of his restaurant business announcing his intention to leave the community. Mrs. Smith will give no reason for disappearing other than to say "the world is cruel." It is stated by relatives, however, that she slept in a barn with her little son as a result of a reprimand from her parents. Mr. and Mrs. Smith have effected a reconciliation.

SPARKS FROM THE WIRES

The convention of the Chicago synod of the English Evangelical Lutheran church, in session in Lafayette, Ind., yesterday began a consideration of the future of Colburn Academy, the proposition to remove the institution from Colburn, Ind., to some larger city meeting with strong opposition. "Edwin J. Leifried, late private secretary of former President Charles M. Schwab of the steel trust, and until recently head of the commercial department in the Muskegon high school, is to teach next year in a university in Japan. Governor Magoon has reported to the bureau of insular affairs the following new cases of yellow fever in the canal zone: Russell Viditor and John R. Williams, Americans; James Morgan and Felipe Echeverria.

WHEN CHICAGO WAS YOUNG

What the Present Great Metropolis Looked Like to a Visitor in 1850.

In his book, "The Illini," Col. Clark B. Carr tells how Chicago appeared to him in 1850 when he reached it after a trip up the lakes from his home in New York state: "It was low and flat; the buildings were small and beyond them there was nothing to relieve the eye but more flat land. As we entered the narrow river, which is the harbor, we could see muddy streets, along which were successions of small frame buildings, with a few of brick, and no two of them of the same height, with broad sidewalks on such different levels that pedestrians in walking a single block were obliged to ascend and descend stairways a dozen or more times. The plank street crossings were covered with mud and only seemed to keep the foot passengers from sinking out of sight. Chicago seemed to me only a transitory city, a place of meeting and separating, of hail and farewell."

While wandering along he saw "Long John" Wentworth. "As I was looking down Dearborn street I saw approaching us in the distance what appeared to be a giant. He walked a few steps upon a level with us on the sidewalk, then descended, his legs, his body and finally his head disappearing; then his head and body reappeared, but not his legs. He descended again, and again rose, revealing his whole great frame, and again descended till lost to view, and so appeared and disappeared until finally he came up the steps to where we were."

"He was simply walking the street toward us up and down stairs, on a Chicago sidewalk as then constructed. He stopped before us and looked at us with a smile and then a grimace. He had a way of drawing back the corners of his big mouth, giving him a fierce look, and then relaxing the muscles of his face into a grin. He stood six feet and six inches in his stockings."

To Preserve Manx Language.

The Manx Language society has been formed and to carry out its purpose of preserving the language of the Isle of Man will send a photograph to different parts of the island, and old men whose accent is pure will speak into the receiver passages from Scripture, folk-lore stories, idiomatic sentences and proverbs. When the records are complete they will be kept at the society's rooms in Douglas.

He Squeezed His Eye.

One day a little niece of mine, aged 8, was traveling toward Boston with her mother, and by way of diversion started a little flirtation with a brakeman on the train. The little one and the man got along famously, and as the latter proceeded to his duties in another part of the car he winked his farewell. Turning to her mother, the little girl exclaimed: "Why, mamma, the man squeezed his eye at me."—Boston Herald.

...Forty Years Ago...

Janesville Daily Gazette, Friday, June 23, 1865.—Sunday School Excursion from Madison.—The Sunday school of the Congregational church at Madison makes an excursion to this city tomorrow, and has a picnic at Crosby's Grove. When picnics have been held in the grove heretofore, the trees have been greatly injured by horses gnawing them. It has therefore been determined to allow no horses to be hitched to the trees. Those driving to the grounds will do well to bear this in mind.

The Fourth at Madison.—From all we can learn they are not having a very smooth time at Madison in the prosecution of their arrangements for the Fourth. It seems that instead of having the Hon. Geo. C. Bates, of Chicago, as an orator, they have been compelled by some of the committee to take Judge Orton; and Mr. Geo. R. Smith takes an important part in the exercises. Some of the citizens cannot forget the last four years, and therefore do not like the shape things have taken. Come down and celebrate with us, gentlemen.

Robbery of a Sick Soldier.—A soldier of the 38th regiment, named David Everett, who has been in the hospital at Madison, and who had just got in a condition to start for home, was robbed by some scoundrel just outside the prison walls, of his pocketbook containing his entire pay and his railroad ticket. The other soldiers on the train raised something over $20 and presented him with it and the railroad conductors did a most praiseworthy thing in passing him over the line the road to this city. We were waited upon by Mr. Charles H. Goodrich of the 13th, who wishes us to return the thanks of the soldiers on the train to the railroad company and to the conductors for their consideration and kindness in this instance.

Emigration.—The bureau of emigration reports a falling off in arrivals of over twenty thousand as compared with the corresponding season of last year. It is expected that immediate steps will be taken to stimulate immigration from Europe, particularly among the educated and industrial classes, large numbers of whom are ready to sail at the opening of navigation, but who have been prevented by unfavorable reports from their relatives and friends in this country of the difficulty of obtaining transportation, the high rates of passage, etc.

WHERE RIBBONS MAKE THE STYLE

This charmingly simple frock of white point d'esprit owes all of its chic and grace to the clever distribution of the trimming scheme, for which ribbons are relied upon entirely. The bodice is fashioned after the bebe mode, the ribbon ruffles on waist and sleeve following a seemingly unbroken line, and a Frenchy little effect is gained in the star-shaped rosettes of the same ribbon that are applied between the grouped ruffles. The sleeve is a puff affair, that ends in an elaborate but seemingly simple cuff at the elbow. The bodice is constructed upon a carefully boned and fitted lining, so that the curves of the figure are followed exactly. The skirt is very simple, being in three flounce sections, the one shirred to the other, and a double row of ribbon ruffles applied to conceal the joining. The use of a broad velvet ribbon at the foot not only makes the skirt hang in artistic folds, but likewise adds much to its chic and style.

Troubled With Sick Headaches? — Try "Seven Barks"—No Cure — No Pay.

Nearly all headaches come from a disordered stomach. Remedies applied to the head won't cure them. Letter from Mr. Talmon Snoddy, of Midway, Tenn., which we received on July 30, 1904, whose mother at last found a cure: "I can speak very highly of your remedies, the Seven Barks and Globe Pills. My mother, Alice Snoddy, was troubled with Sick Headache. She tried several medicines, but could not get any relief. Your Barks which completely cured her. Her Barks was of 15 years standing. Your Seven Barks will do all that you claim."

We sell Seven Barks and know it will do all that is claimed for it. When it fails, we refund the money without a question. If Seven Barks is efficient in a case of 18 years' standing, there is little doubt of its curative value in your case. The go on until you are fully satisfied with the results. Under such conditions, don't you think you'd better try it? Surely you don't want Sick Headaches.
